Tardy Policy

Persistent tardiness is highly disruptive to instruction and undermines student morale. Each quarter, students are given five tardies without consequence. On the fifth occasion that a student is tardy, the parents or guardians will be notified. On the sixth through ninth instances, the student will serve a thirty-minute detention after school. A tenth tardy may result in a suspension. For further information, please refer to the Family Handbook or contact Mr. Black.

January 26th: Full Day for Archway Glendale, Half Day for Glendale Prep

On January 26th, Archway Glendale will have a full day while Glendale Prep will have a half day. We apologize for the inconvenience.

The strengthen support for student success tip to start the New Year is to encourage all of us to take care of our health – get to bed on time, up on time, and to school on time. Getting up and to school on time on these dark mornings is a bit more challenging, but worth the effort it takes. Students who are on time do better in school. They feel more confident, more prepared, and more part of the school community.

Let's have a great year of student success. We all need to do our part, and sometimes a little extra.
