Late Students, Drop Off and Pick Up

With the colder temperatures and darker skies in the morning, there has been an increase in tardy students. Please try to get to campus by 7:15 am to ensure your student is in his desk and ready to learn by 7:40 am.

Please use the queue to drop off and pick up students rather than using one of the surrounding neighborhood streets. Neighbors have been complaining and additional policemen may be on patrol. It is safer for families to use the queue than the surrounding streets.

Community Investment

Great Hearts believes in the importance of a thorough immersion in Music for our students. We believe that Music instruction is an education in beauty. Through their experiences of performing classic works of music, understanding music theory, and feeling the music through cultural dance, our students experience the discipline and humility that true creativity requires.

Headmaster's Corner

On Wednesday, Nov. 7, more than 70 parents showed up for a tremendous presentation by Suzanne Kilani-McCauley on Growth Mindset. We were thrilled by the turnout and inspired by the presentation. More to come so join the fun!

Help everyone in your family think and talk about effort and strategies instead of how smart we are. Sure we are smart, but we can all get smarter with persistent effort, willingness to make mistakes and learn from them, and boldness to try new strategies. Never let your children and never say yourself, "I can't do that." Instead, say, "I can't do that yet, but I can get better at it with effort and perseverance."

Time to commit ourselves to grow spiritually, academically, socially, morally, and in every way one day one task at a time.

Have a great day and enjoy growing your growth mindset!
