Archway Glendale Parent Book Club - Signup Now!

On Thursday, March 7th, from 6:30 to 7:30 pm (doors open at 6:15) in the MPR, Archway Glendale will host our very first Archway Glendale Parent Book Club.

We will be discussing Stanford Professor Carol Dweck's bestselling book Mindset: The New Psychology of Success.

Many attended our parent workshop, but now you have the chance to delve deeper into the mystery of success and follow Dweck's guidance to seek input from others as we collectively look towards how this knowledge can help the young minds that are in our care.

If you do not already have a copy of the book, please make sure to secure a copy and read it beforehand. The book's ISBN is 978-0345472328. There are 7 copies for sale in the office for $15.

Please RSVP by Friday, March 1, 2019, so that we may organize the participants into small discussion groups.

Light refreshments will be served, and don't forget to bring your book!

We like to think of our champions and idols as superheroes who were born different from us. We don't like to think of them as relatively ordinary people who made themselves extraordinary. – Carol Dweck

Community Investment

It is Archway Glendale's mission to bring up Great Hearted scholars who learn and develop not only through academics, but also through physical exercise. P.E. is a central piece of the Great Hearts Archway program. Our children develop the elements of fitness, learn the rudiments of major sports, and build their understanding of the human body. They also develop perseverance and courage in the gym and on the field, a vital complement to the character development that goes on in the classroom.

Headmaster's Corner

This weekend we celebrate Presidents' Day, which is a day we especially honor George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, two men of outstanding courage. May they inspire us and may their great example continue to guide us in the path of goodness, truth, and freedom!

As we arrive at the mid-point of quarter 3, please help your student(s) persevere, especially in doing homework with as positive attitude as possible. Do all you can to keep it fun and not a power struggle. If you need tips how to do that for your student, reach out to your homeroom teacher for suggestions. Remember the Love and Logic parenting program may have some great tips as well.
