Clay Day Volunteers Needed This Month

The Archway Glendale art teachers, Mrs. Gonzalez and Mrs. Mure, would be grateful for help during clay season, every Wednesday during the month of February. Please consider helping students create beautiful (and messy) clay artwork. Comfortable clothing (within the volunteer dress code) is highly encouraged. Please leave your rings at home if they have crevices for clay to get stuck. Volunteers must be cleared through Great Hearts/Archway Glendale to volunteer.

Fun Run Friday

All Archway Glendale students will participate in the Fun Run Friday. Please be sure your students dress warm since the mornings have been rather chilly. We encourage students to wear sweatshirts, jackets, hats, gloves, etc. However, please double-check that all items are free of pop culture and don't forget the crazy socks! Love and Logic Parent Night

On Tuesday, February 18th, Archway Glendale will be hosting a Love and Logic Parent Night from 6 to 7 in the MPR. We will explore the Love and Logic Philosophy for discipline and character development.

If you attended the Growth Mindset Night or the We Choose Joy Night, you already know the dynamic presenter for this Night. Official Love and Logic Facilitator, Suzanne McCauley, will share

Headmaster's Corner

We choose JOY!

February is that winter month where we need more than ever to exercise the virtue of perseverance as parents, teachers, and students.

Let's stay faithful to:

- choosing JOY and a growth mindset,
- reading every night to our children and having them read to us,
- playing those fun family math games every week,
- practicing an attitude of gratitude in thought, word, and deed.

Looking forward to a continuing effort in February to grow in wisdom, truth, and goodness!
