October 22, 2020

Read-A-Thon - October 28th

The Archway Glendale PSO sponsored Read-A-Thon is next week! This year's Read-A-Thon will include both Distance Learners and Brick and Mortar students. Archway Glendale faculty and staff are excited to see what literary and historical figures show up!

Half-Day - 10/28

Archway Glendale and Glendale Prep had both planned on having a half-day on 10/28, however, Glendale Prep had to change the half-day to 10/29. So this means that the schedules for 10/28 and 10/29 do not match. On 10/28 Glendale Prep will have a full-day and Archway Glendale will have a half-day. On 10/29 Archway Glendale will have a full-day and Glendale Prep will have a half-day.

Volunteers

Archway Glendale is looking for parent volunteers who would be willing to help classrooms during lunch and/or recess when a teacher is absent. If you or another family member or friend would like to be called on to help, please click here to let the school office know. You will need to apply to volunteer and bring your state-issued ID to campus with you. You may apply by clicking here.

Lunch/recess times are:

K and 1: 11-11:35

2 and 3: 11:40 -12:15

4: 12:15 - 12:50

5: 12:30 - 1:05

Dean Visits This Week

This week, the Dean of Students was able to visit each Brick and Mortar classroom to discuss the significance of the Archway Glendale Uniform. The students were able to share what it means to be a team member and community member and how, as an Archway Golden Eagle, each student has the responsibility and honor of being part of a community of learners that encourages, helps, and loves one another. They discussed how upholding the dress code helps show pride in this position and how all can help one another as we enter the cold and flu season with proper hand hygiene. Mask guidelines were also reviewed. Finally, it was shared that our Dean of Students is here to help all students feel safe and joyful at school. Mrs. Swinford will be visiting our Distance Learning classrooms next week to introduce herself and speak about what it means to be a Golden Eagle. Together, we can soar above any obstacle.

Shorts

Shorts may be worn through Friday, October 30th. On Monday, November 2nd, students should wear pants. Kindergarten through 2nd-grade girls may still wear jumpers and 3rd through 5th-grade girls may still wear skirts. Please contact the school office or Dean of Students with any questions or concerns.

Message from Mr. Kersting

In 6 short days, we celebrate Read-A-Thon, one of the most glorious days of the Archway Glendale school year!

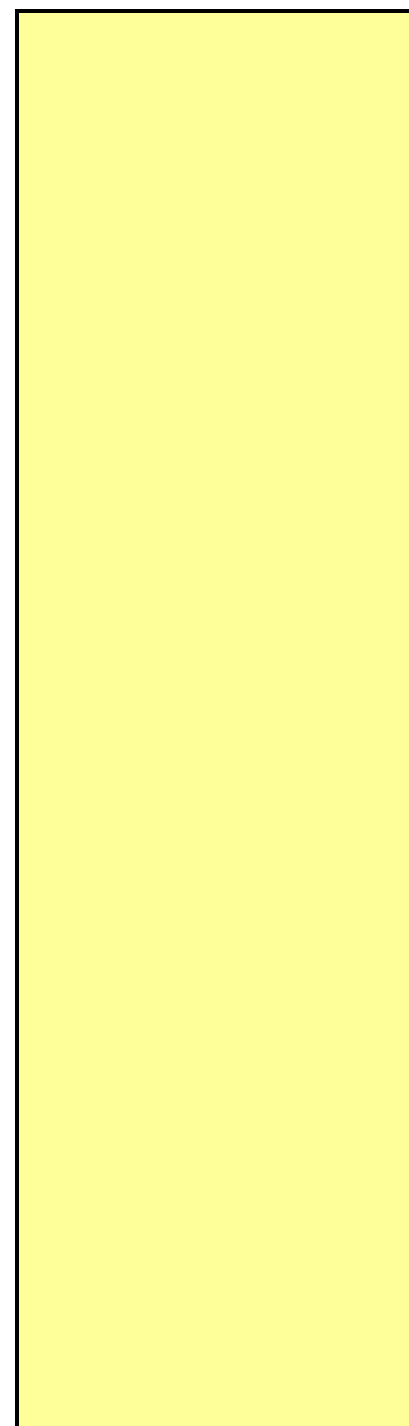

Our students have received a noble call to become life-long learners. To answer that call they must seek and work to become fluent, frequent, discerning, and wise readers.

The great truths of our heritage are contained in the most resplendent books read here at Archway Glendale and later at Glendale Prep. A love of reading great books that inspire us to love and live a life of virtue and to renew and rebuild a civilization of love for all who come after us is one of the happiest and noblest calls a person can receive. Our students, your children, have received that call. Let us help them to answer with all their minds and hearts.

Read-A-Thon plays a significant role in helping students answer the call. We celebrate reading and great books, and we sponsor these youngsters in their journey to become all they can be. Please support them and help them reach out to extended family members and friends. Financial support in this difficult year of COVID is not easy to come by. Read-A-Thon sponsorships will help greatly.

Thank you so much for committing yourself and your family to the core purpose of our school: to form hearts and minds in virtue and truth!

Nunc Coepi. Let us renew our commitment. Now we begin to form life-long readers!
