February 11, 2021

Re-Enrollment For Current Students is Coming Soon!

All current Archway Glendale kindergarten through 4th grade students will participate in re-enrollment in a few weeks. Please be sure to check the next blast for details on how re-enrollment materials will be collected this year. Re-enrollment is the time to secure or release your student's seat for the 21/22 school year.

Kinder Academy and Summer Camp

Register now for Great Hearts Kinder Academy! Great Hearts Summer Camp registration will open on Wednesday, 2/17. For details, please click here.

Tested for COVID?

If anyone in your house has been tested for COVID, please keep all students home until you receive the results. For example, if one of your children has been tested, please keep all Archway Glendale siblings home until you receive the results. There is one exception, if someone in the household is required to test regularly for their job. If that person does not have symptoms students from that household may come to school.

SARRC

This year, Archway Glendale will be working with the Southwest Autism Research & Resource Center (SARRC) on a project regarding a universal screening for social challenges in public schools. The idea is that screening children for social challenges early and identifying and addressing those challenges will have a significant positive effect on their school experience. All students in 2nd and 4th grade will be screened by their teachers in two weeks, unless their parent or guardian chooses to opt out of the screening. ## Headmaster Corner

Trust is a precious commodity, hard to earn, easy to lose. Without it, nothing good can happen in human relationships and no great results can come of our labors. Let us renew a commitment to become trustworthy persons who practice the 13 high-trust behaviors.

Two of our greatest presidents, Washington and Lincoln, were men of their word and men of action, men who could be trusted, men who talked straight, demonstrated respect, created transparency, righted wrongs, showed loyalty, delivered results, got better, and confronted reality. They also practiced the 9th high trust behavior: clarify expectations.

Washington clarified expectations for his men and the Continental Congress regarding what it would take to defeat the British Superpower and win American Freedom.

Lincoln clarified his expectations that victory in the Civil War could lead to a rebirth of a nation committed to the self-evident truth declared by our Founding Fathers that “all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights.”

Great leaders disclose measurable and observable expectations – clear and verifiable. They do not assume clarity, nor do they assume shared commitment, but they over-communicate clarity and probe for conflict until a commitment is real and deep for everyone. Leaders and ideal team members live by the expectations they have set forth, renegotiating them when circumstances demand and recommitting to the new and clearer expectations.

It takes courage and perseverance to clarify and live by expectations. Trust is worth it, and trust cannot exist without clearly communicated expectations.
