Headmaster Corner

Once upon a time in my youth, I met Coach John Wooden, one of my heroes. I embarrassed myself beyond belief, but that's another story.

Coach Wooden is one of the great leaders in the history of our nation. He wrote numerous bestsellers on leadership. This year Mrs. Fleming has dutifully posted a saying a week from Coach Wooden on our Facebook page and website, but we still have not exhausted my 99 favorite sayings since, of course, there are not 99 weeks in the year.

So in this HM Corner, let me share just a few sayings you have not seen on our website:

"Many ...have tremendous God-given gifts, but they don't focus on the development of those gifts...You've never heard of them. [The difference between them and those who succeed is] hard work...very hard work."

"Come close to your level of competency, not somebody else's."

"There cannot be progress without change – even though not all change is progress."

That last saying rings so true in this year (more than a year now) from COVID. Change is painful, but if it is change for the better, the pain is worth the gain!

Let's all finish as strong as we can...and only then focus on and enjoy our summer break!
