Headmaster Corner

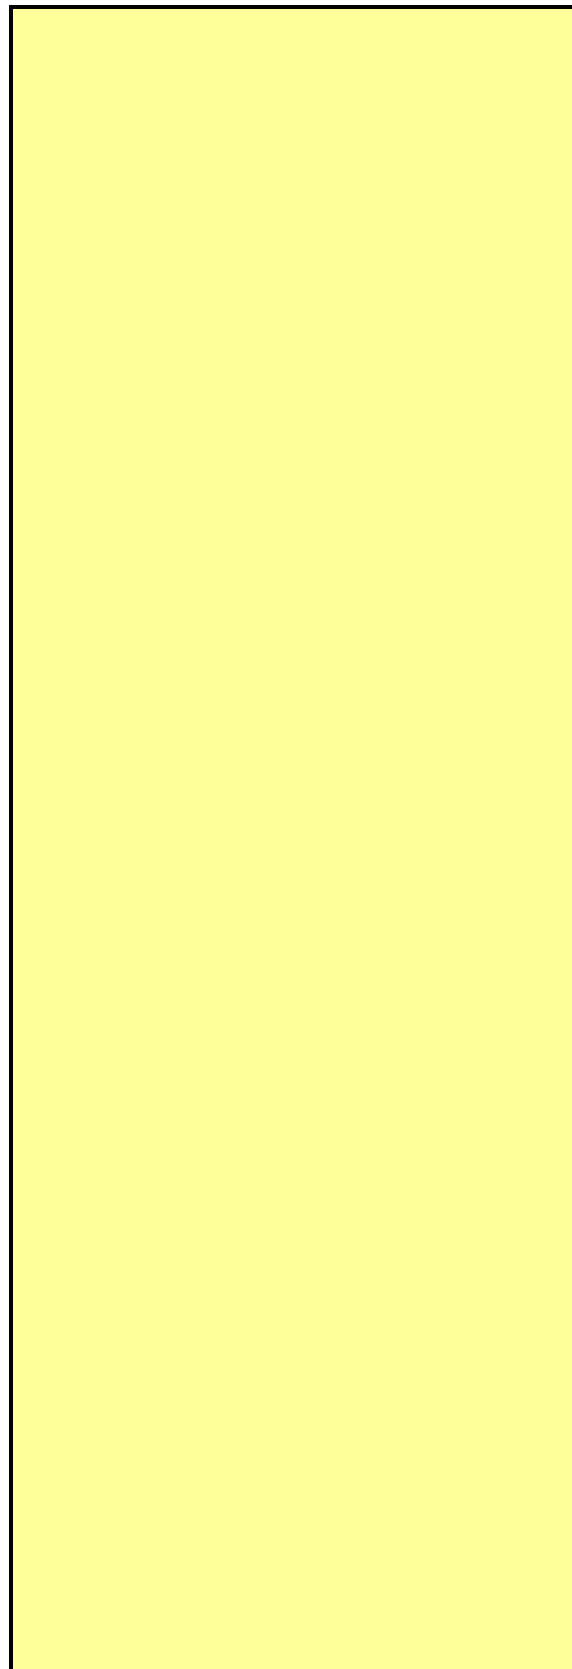

Dear Archway Glendale Families,

I am bursting with excitement to dive into a new school year and welcome everyone back to campus!

We are blasting ahead, making plans for students to grow in virtue, academics, and social emotional skills during the upcoming school year. We have hired a math interventionist and an instructional coach to achieve these goals, and we are actively seeking a full time counselor to join our team. We have intervention plans ready to implement for students requiring extra academic and behavioral support. We have coaching plans ready to help our teachers continue getting even more excellent. While new challenges will always lay ahead, we will be ready for them as we are armed with virtuous, caring, and committed students, faculty and staff, and families.

Enjoy the final weeks of summer. I look forward to seeing you and your children soon!

With gratitude,
