How Does READ-A-THON Work

READ-A-THON is a day for students and families to celebrate their passion for books and literature while forming lifelong learners, all wrapped into a fun day of reading while supporting Archway Glendale. We look forward to READ-A-THON and cannot wait to see what we all can do together.

READ-A-THON is one of the foundational events where students seek sponsorships from families, friends, co-workers, and those dedicated to helping Archway Glendale build the resources needed to develop lifelong readers. Money raised helps support Archway Glendale in many ways. Students and faculty can dress up as a literary or historical figure, and then enjoy a day full of reading and other fun literacy related activities.

READ-A-THON has become a joyous and highly anticipated tradition at Archway Glendale. We hope you are as excited as we are!

What To Do To Make READ-A-THON Successful

- Donations can be made by check, cash, or online at archwayglendale.org/pso/read-a-thon. Instructions are on the sponsor sheet. If you have any questions, please contact the PSO at ArchwayGlendalePSO@gmail.com. Should you require any additional READ-A-THON materials, you may pick them up at the Archway Glendale office or print them from the PSO website www.archwayglendale.org/PSO.
- Students are encouraged to make phone calls, write emails, and engage the community to find sponsors.
- Students may dress as a character following the Dress-up Day Guidelines, included in this packet
- All sponsor information needs to be included on the READ-A-THON sponsor sheet. To be eligible for prizes students need to return sponsor sheets to their home room teachers on October 29th, along with any money collected.

Thank you in advance for participating in Archway Glendale's 2021 READ-A-THON

Dress-Up Day Guidelines

1. Your costume must be a literary/historical figure that is part of the Archway Glendale curriculum, or a character from a book in the library.
2. Your costume needs to follow the same length guidelines as our uniform policy. No skinny jeans.
3. Items in your costume should not have any logos, brand names, and/or pop culture on them.
4. You may wear non-uniform shoes (such as sandals), provided that they are appropriate for your character.
5. No masks or face paint are permitted.
6. Small props are allowed but should be put away during class.
7. Students who do not follow the costume guidelines may be sent home.
8. You are not required to dress-up.
9. Costumes need to be cleared with your homeroom teacher by October 20TH.
10. Students should be careful not to wear any costume that could be offensive to others
